TUESDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 14.

CLERGYMEN AND THEATRES.—The Boston Bee mentions the fact that several clergymen of that city are in the habit of attending the theatres, and that several of them were at the Athenseum on one evening while Mrs. Mowatt was playing there. We can see no reason why clergymen should not be attracted to such places by moral and elevated pieces and actors. It is one of the most impressive ways to impart instructive and moral lessons when properly conducted. If the managers of theatres and museums would take care to select good plays, and avoid the disagreeable and contaminating influences that too often surround such places, they would soon draw around them the support of the wise and the good. When rightly conducted, the stage is capable of wielding a moral influence not surpassed by the pulpit itself.

Providence Mirror. A theatre without "disagreeable and contaminating influences" would be like a bowl of punch without "the ardent," and would have as few admirers. In England and the United States, during the last half century, very decided efforts have been often made to enact moral dramas before moral spectators, but always to the serious loss of the managers: and so well understood is this that in many instances in this country within our recollection, not only was great care taken to secure a well-furnished bar in the "saloon," but the "impures" of the gallery were put on the free list that their influence might add to the attractions of the place! Whether these practices now prevail in the cities that support theatres we do not know; but sure we are the theatres of Boston have within a few years improved miraculously, or "several clergymen of that city" have as little business within them as they could have within the meanest of the "hells" that exist even in that goodly city. They may themselves descend to a level with the associations surrounding them, but can never through their presence and influence realize the truth that, "when rightly conducted the stage is capable of wielding a moral influence not surpassed by the pulpit itself ."

THE LARGEST PILE OF SPECIE IN THE WORLD. According to a recent return of the Bank of France, the specie on hand amounted to 607 millions of francs, or about 115 millions of dol This, we believe, is the largest amount lars. of specie ever collected together. The Bank of England has not had, at any time, over 100

In France, the legal currency is silver and not gold-hence it is probable that nearly all this specie is silver-and hence the recent diminution of silver in this country.

The enormous accumulation of silver in the symptom of her trade-for the discounts and circulation of the bank have diminished. Hence election operates powerfully on the Bank and ats to restrain them from an expansion of credits. We should suppose that the presence of so large an amount of specie, in a city like Paris, where revolutions are so frequent, would be dangerous. The Socialists and Red Republicans are opposed to the existing institutions of property, and might be tempted to make a practical distribution of this bank fund.

GEORGETOWN AND ITS AFFAIRS

GEORGETOWN, October 14-12 m. Female School, Christ Church, (Episcopal.)-This school was formed at the same time of the male department in 1820, under the ministry of the Rev. C. McIlvaine, now bishop of Ohio. It is a separate organization, and governed by its own rules and officers ("the superintendent being opposed to unions,") and is in a flourishing condition. There are at the present time, actively engaged, eleven teachers, a librarian. and superintendent, with over fifty scholars in regular attendance, and about two hundred and forty volumes in the library. Here, too, for many years they have been engaged in the good work of raising money to send the Gospel to the heathen world, and have, within the last five years, educated a boy in the mission school in and 300 bbls. at $3.93%, on time, with interest added. Africa, by contributing $25 per annum for that purpose. In addition to this, in July last, they ent a donation of $30 to the same school. May Heaven bless these benevolent ladies, and prosper them in their pleasant undertaking, and magnify the missionary contributions of their little charge even as were the loaves and the fishes. It has been for many years, and still is, under the direction of Miss Catharine Magruder, as superintendent, of whom it may be said that no church can boast of a more zealous INDIAN MISSIONARIES .- On Sunday last, the Rev. Henry Requa, missionary to the Oneida Indians, in Wisconsin, together with Rev. Tahyou-gah-way-hay, a preacher of the tribe, and two converted Indians, appeared in the pulpit of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in Allen street, New York, when they made an interesting statement about the affairs of the missionone of the Indians speaking in his native language through an interpreter, and two of them singing hymns in their own tongue to their own wildly beautiful airs. It was an interesting spectacle. One of these red men referred to the part their tribe took in the revolutionary war, and in the war of 1812, and the ungrateful return of the government, who erected monuments over the graves of their own chiefs, but not over the graves of the chiefs of the Indians. Their descendants have been driven back from their ancient lands, and were poor and needy. But they felt they would be recompensed for all by the possession of the Bible and the gospel. A collection having been taken up, a sum of $250 was raised on the spot.

A TRUE LADY .- The Louisville Courier, of the 8th instant, says: Of the verdict of ten thousand dollars lately recovered in Henry county, in this State, in favor of a young lady in an action of slander, that, so soon as the ver dict was rendered, the fair Kentucky plaintiff, scorning to receive the money of the defendant, directed her counsel to enter a remittitur for the amount of the verdict, save what would be sufficient to compensate them for their services. Upon consultation they consented to be satisfied with five hundred dollars.

BETTER THAN GOLD !

PORTSMOUTH, July 9, 1851.
MR. J. E. BOUSH-Dear Sir: 1 feel it a duty to make known the benefit I have derived from Dr. Hampton's VEGETABLE TINCTURE. For a number of years I suffered from disease, but to a greater degree for the last three years. One of the forms of my disease was dyspepsia. From this dreadful malady I suffered to such an tent that life was really a burden. The attack of it on me was different to that on any other person of whom I have heard; at times it was like the palpitation of the me was different to that on any other person of whom I have heard; at times it was like the palpitation of the heart; there was a constant thumping and beating without intermission about the region of my heart, chest, and stomach; some of the attacks would last for weeks; my stomach was much distended, with constant pain, great weakness, and constination of the bowels. I could not eat the most rimple food without pain. I also suffered greatly from disease of the kidneys, with constant pain in the back, that I could walk only with great difficulty. I tried nearly all of the most celebrated patent medicines of the day, but found no relief. I had also the best medical attendance. One of my phy-icians frankly toid me it was of no use for me to be paying him for advice, as he could do me no good. I gave up almost in despair, and thought my disease certainly incurable.

At this jupcture I heard of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. I refused to give it a trial, although persuaded by my friends, until my son purchased a few bottles, and requested me to try it; after taking it a few times, it had a most happy effect on me; my confidence increased, and after taking three bottles, my dyspepsia, or disease of the stomach, was nearly if not entirely cured. I now feel myself a new man, and in better health than for years. I am certain the cure in my case was made by this Hampton's Vegetable Tincture alone. Since my cure I have recommended the tincture to a number of my friends, who have also been relieved by it. Some of the cures have been as rapid and equally wonderful as mins.

I present my respects to Meesrs. Mortimer & Mowbray, the proprietors of this valuable medicine, and say to them its value is above price; and from my cure, and what I have seen of its effects on others, I shall ever feel it my duty to recommend it to the suffering. I have no doubt many valuable lives will be prolonged by its use. I hope the afflicted will cast asside their prejudices and give it a trial. Yours most respectfully,

The above is extracted from a letter from a gentleman sixty years of age, and of high character. He says: "I have given but a faint idea of my sufferings; I feel inndequate to the task." We also have received, in the last few days, letters from two of our most worthy and well-known citizens, giving two remarkable cures of spinal disease. But yesterday one of the oldest merchants reported that he was cured of neuralgia of the head, of years standing, and so bad that his teeth fell out from its effects. Call and see letters. Was there ever so many cures, wonderful cures, made by any other medicine. All we sak of the afflicted is that they try Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, the great purifier of the blood and cure for all chronic diseases, as dyspepsis, rheumatism, scrofula, and all complaints of the stomach, bowels, &c.
